25X1 1. The STRAUSBERG (N 53/V 15) air force supply depot [redacted] was written on a red-lined plate, three feet high, in the administration building. Capt DUBIEN was the new supply officer of the depot. This was a technical supply depot where, among other equipment, engines also were overhauled. It was observed that batteries, containers and clothing were hauled from the depot.

25X1 4. Several empty cases in which engines had presumably been packed were standing in the depot.

25X1 [redacted] Comment:

25X1 a. The existence of an air force supply depot in STRAUSBERG [redacted] It has not been learned what kind of air force equipment is stored there and what air force units are supplied. According to previous reports it is assumed that aircraft engines, aircraft and motor vehicle accessories, aircraft control units and clothing are stored in STRAUSBERG. An army supply depot is also very probably located in the depot.
